The Watch the People Want

$350

It's the new jeweled Ingersoll Waterbury. In the first place it's the size that's most wanted—the popular "12 size".

Then the whole "get-up" is stylish, up-to-the minute in all particulars. Note the graceful bow and crown and the figures on the dial.

And with jewels at the points of greatest friction, it's accurate, yet it is sturdy, too—like other Ingersolls.

You can also have it with a Radiolite dial that shows time in the dark—at $4.

YOUNG MAN TAKEN ON GRAVE CHARGE

Gordon Bristol, a ranch hand, 21 years old, was arrested near Glendale last night by Constable Marks of Glendale upon complaint of a Mexican woman that Bristol had attacked her. He is being held for investigation under a charge of attempted criminal assault.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Nafziger, upon request of Marks, brought Bristol from Glendale and placed him in the county jail. During the ride in Nafziger says he asked Bristol how old the woman was and Bristol replied that she was anywhere between 60 and 100 years old. Bristol is a 1918 registrant for military service.

Other plaintiffs in divorce suits yesterday were Anna J. Dills against James B. Dills and James H. Sullivan against Bevia Sullivan.

GIRL'S BLUFF GETS CALLED BY JUSTICE

"Believe me, Mr. Briscoe, there is certainly some trouble coming to this police department," said Grace Landis, charged with vagrancy, when she was sentenced by Police Judge Frank Thomas yesterday to either pay a fine of $150 or serve 150 days in the city jail.

During her trial Chief Briscoe testified that Grace Landis had "blown all over town" that if she was convicted she was going to cause all kinds of scandal to break involving all kinds of prominent men. The chief said that now was a good time to call her bluff.

Grace Landis, who is small in stature and most rapid moving tongue that ever came before the city court, talked so much during the trial that it was difficult for any of the witnesses to say anything. She appeared as her own attorney and cross-examined everybody, including City Prosecutor Nelson and Judge Thomas himself, and as for witnesses, when questions were asked of them, Grace Landis answered for them before they had time to think, and in consequence the testimony got twisted.

In the middle of the proceedings Grace discovered that her star witness was not in court. She sprang to the telephone and after some waiting got him to appear in court. He was J. W. Casey, a pool room manager, who had been arrested previously by Chief Briscoe and charged with "running a disorderly house." The house in question is situated in the 1500 block on West Washington street.

Casey's testimony rather than being a help to Grace Landis seemed to work against her. For Judge Thomas passed sentence immediately after Casey had testified. Grace Landis had up a cash bond, placed shortly after her arrest Sunday night, and she consequently paid her fine in preference to spending 150 days in jail.

Casey was to have appeared for trial yesterday himself, but when his name was called, just prior to the calling of Grace Landis' name, Casey was not in court, and his bail of $50 was declared forfeited by the court.

Chief Briscoe speaking of the case yesterday said that the arrest of Grace Landis and Casey came as the climax to complaints of neighbors in the 1500 block on West Washington street. "Several days ago," said Chief Briscoe, "I warned Casey that he would have to behave and when conditions at the house did not improve I ordered him to vacate the house immediately. Instead, he remained there, with persons coming and going, until the arrest of Grace Landis on a vagrancy charge and his own arrest on charges of conducting a disorderly house resulted."

"It has been a practice this summer for persons, with a questionable object in view, to rent among the best houses, in the best neighborhoods of the city. Grace Landis herself did this and it was necessary for us to see that she vacated that particular house."

"There are other cases and I take occasion to warn these people. They cannot conduct themselves in a disorderly manner, or conduct disorderly houses. This sham of renting respectable persons' houses for disreputable purposes must be stopped at once."

WHEATLESS DAYS TO CEASE FOR PRESENT

No more wheatless meals or wheatless days for the present.

Commencing August 1, all hotels and public eating places will be on an equal basis and obliged to follow the baking regulations.

The above information was contained in a telegram received yesterday by M. C. Grier of Phoenix, chairman of the hotel and restaurant division for the state of Arizona, from John McE. Bowman of the United States food administration, Washington, D. C.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington, printed in The Republican last Monday morning, also contained this information, stating that while the hotels and public eating places had been released as of August 1 from their voluntary pledge to use no wheat until the present harvest, they would still make and serve "Victory bread."
